BANKERS' HOTEL FOR OAKLAND

OAKLAND'S NEW HOTEL

Editorial From OAKLAND TRIBUNE, October 15th, 1906.

In another column will be found the prospectus of the new hotel which is to be erected under the auspices of the nine banks comprising the Oakland Clearing House Association. It is an instructive document, telling in the cold language of finance a story of growth, development and enterprise that should stimulate the civic pride and public spirit of every citizen of Oakland.

It is fortunate that the speedy erection of a great modern hotel, richly furnished, superbly equipped and decorated, and designed on noble architectural lines, is an assured fact. It is doubly fortunate that it is an inviting investment, assuring large returns on the capital invested. It is a convincing proof of the wonderful growth and progress of Oakland that a great hotel of the first order can be erected here as a strictly business proposition; that it is demonstrably a profitable enterprise as well as a notable public benefit.

Heretofore the hotel projects advanced in this city have appealed to sentiment rather than business judgment; to a certain degree they were in advance of public needs, and were an expression of local pride rather than enterprises based on assured patronage and sure returns. Now the situation is entirely reversed. Business is the mainspring of this hotel project, not sentiment, and for that reason every successful financier and merchant is investing in it. The patronage does not have to be sought and attracted, it is already here clamoring for accommodation, while the extraordinary increase in population and business expansion render the hotel as much a necessity to other lines of business as it is to the traveling public. For that reason it is being backed by banking, business and property interests which are not controlled by sentiment nor prone to invest in schemes which will not bear rigid financial scrutiny. For the same reason the stock promises to be largely over-subscribed.

Various hotel projects have been launched in Oakland from time to time, but this is the first time one has been presented that is undoubtedly a safe and profitable investment, and is promoted by men whose judgment and probity command universal confidence. No hotel property of such magnitude has ever been presented here, none promising such benefits to the city, or so urgently demanded by business exigency. As it will pay, and is badly needed, the bankers of the city have united to promote and finance it. Nothing is lacking to insure the erection of the hotel and financial success after its completion.

The signs of success are already being manifested. The property in the immediate vicinity has enhanced from twenty and fifty to one hundred per cent in value since the site of the new hotel was acquired. The site itself, which is admirably located for the purpose in view, is worth today fully twice the sum paid for it. It will be worth fully $500,000 more than the purchase price the moment the hotel is completed and opened for business. Thus the stockholders will have not less than half a million added to the value of their investment through the mere enhancement of ground values caused by the erection of a hotel costing fully $1,250,000, if not more.

Fourteenth street will be opened, giving the hotel property a street frontage on all four sides, which will be a notable improvement to the city and increase the value of surrounding property. As the site is the block bounded by Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Harrison and Alice streets, it is situated in a locality where property values are sure to advance permanently, being immediately contiguous to the junction of Broadway and Fourteenth street, held to be the business center.

The reasons why the hotel is so urgently needed and so certain to be successful lie upon the face of things. From 1900 to the beginning of 1906 the population of Oakland and the urban district, of which it is the geographical and traffic center, increased eighty per cent. Oakland's population has practically doubled since January 1st. Its business is quadrupled. The travel in and out of the city is enormous. All the first-class hotels in San Francisco were destroyed by the fire last April. That city is now more deficient in hotel accommodations than is Oakland, and must remain so for a long time to come. Oakland has also become the theatrical center of the Pacific coast, a fact in itself that is of marked importance in studying the hotel situation.

"Commercially Oakland is a city of 250,000 inhabitants," says the prospectus. A conservative statement by conservative men. Commercially, Oakland includes Berkeley, Alameda, Fruitvale, Piedmont, Emeryville, Melrose and Elmhurst. This whole district embraces fewer square miles than Los Angeles, and contains fully 100,000 inhabitants. Its center of life and commercial activity is Oakland, or more properly speaking, the section of Oakland in which the new hotel is to be erected. In every part of this district, fast becoming one compact city, there is growth in population, business and manufacturing, as the tremendous building and real estate activity shows. In a business community so populous, so prosperous and so rapidly developing, a splendid modern hotel is not only a necessary complement of its life and activities, but it is an enterprise that is certain to yield large returns. All the leading hotels in the large cities are profitable investments, even where the rivalry is keen and the competition spirited, hence a hotel of the highest class in Oakland, where there is neither rivalry nor competition, ought to pay still better.

As the new hotel is to be in the nature of a public institution all classes of citizens ought to co-operate with the gentlemen who are promoting it. It will be a landmark and an architectural adornment to the city; it will cause travelers to remember Oakland and carry into other lands pleasant memories of this city; it will attract hither tourists and sight-seers who now pass through Oakland because of the lack of adequate hotel accommodations. And, lastly, it will fill a long-felt want in our municipal life, and meet a deficiency which is now a bar to the claim that Oakland is really a great city. Modern cities cannot be great without having great hotels, and Oakland is no exception to the rule. Therefore the more widely pecuniary interest in the hotel is distributed among the city's inhabitants the more closely it will claim the sympathies, associations and support of the local public.

BURGLARS SHOOT AT POLICE

They Had Laid a Trap for the Housebreakers and Were Caught in It Themselves.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 3.—Chief of Detectives Gill of East St. Louis and Patrolman Ransom, Paine were shot at Woodstock while they were trying to trap burglars in the home of Philip Wolf, treasurer of St. Clair county, East St. Louis. Gill was shot through the mouth and Paine was wounded twice, one bullet penetrating the left side near the heart. Both men were taken to a hospital, where Paine seems to be at the point of death. In response to a telephone message from the Wolf home to the effect that burglars were in the dwelling, Gill, Paine and Patrolman Obermeyer hurried to the place and surrounded the house. The men immediately came from the rear of the Wolf home and began to fire at the officers. The attack was so sudden and unexpected that the men had practically no chance and both fell. The burglars escaped.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION IS SHY ON CANDIDATES

Bell Refuses to Run for Congress, but Will Stump for Bryan

STOCKTON, Sept. 3.—Scarcely of timber for candidates for Congress and the State legislature is the problem confronting the Democratic State convention, which meets here this afternoon. The greatest difficulty is being experienced in fixing up a slate. In one of the eight Congressional districts there is a nomination for Congress, which has been decided upon, the most influential Democrats in each district deciding the honor. Even aspirants for the electorate are not numerous, while the situation in the Assembly and Senatorial districts is but little better than the Congressional districts.

FACTIONAL QUARREL. Added to these difficulties is a factional row in the Los Angeles delegation and an attempt to take the local delegates arising out of the recent county convention in Los Angeles into the State convention. Several members of the Los Angeles delegation are seeking to depose Nathan Cole as national committeeman from California, vaguely making various charges against him and asserting that a resolution will be introduced in the convention tomorrow asking for his resignation.

BELL AFTER PEACE. Theodore A. Bell today expressed himself as opposed to the State convention taking up the row in the ranks of the Los Angeles Democrats, declared that personally he would not interfere, and is seeking to placate the factions. "Cole was not my choice for national committeeman," said Bell, "but he was selected and I shall continue to consider him the representative of the national committee."

No effort is made to conceal that Bell, Cole and Judge Baker, chairman of the State central committee, are not entirely harmonious. Cole arrived this morning. He attributes the fight against him to jealousy. Bell stated today that under no circumstances would he accept the nomination for Congress in the Second district, for which he is being urged.

TO SPEAK FOR BRYAN. "I leave on September 20 for the East," said Bell, "to make several speeches in Indiana, Ohio, New York and Maryland, at Mr. Bryan's request, and it would be impossible for me to accept any nomination and make the necessary campaign."

A score of leading women suffragists headed by Mrs. Emma L. Schortzer and Mrs. William Harris Coffin, are here and will attend the convention in a body, pursuing tactics similar to the demonstration at the Republican convention in Oakland, which utterly ignored them. The suffragists ask that legislative candidates be pledged to submit a constitutional amendment to the people of the State on the question of extending to women the same right to vote as to men.

The Seventh and Eighth Congressional Districts will hold a caucus early in the afternoon to decide upon candidates for Congress. James D. Phelan and Eugene German appear to be mostly favored for electors-at-large. No opposition has developed to Senator George W. Cutler for chairman of the convention.

CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT IS COMING

Eugene F. Chafin, Nominee of the Prohibition Party, Will Speak at Greek Theater.

The Prohibitionists are making great preparations for the coming of their Presidential candidate, Eugene W. Chafin. On Tuesday evening, September 8, he will speak in Christian Science Hall, Sacramento and Scott streets, San Francisco. Alameda county Prohibitionists expect to go over in large numbers. A special committee will meet him at Sixteenth street station and escort him to his hotel across the bay. On Wednesday, September 9, at 10 o'clock a. m., Mr. Chafin will speak in the Greek Theater at Berkeley, and at 2:30 p. m. at Palo Alto, so that students of both universities will be able to hear him.

Mr. Chafin was born in East Troy, Wis., November 1, 1862, was "brought up" on the farm and "worked his way through college" at the University of Wisconsin. He practiced law very successfully for twenty-five years, appearing before the Supreme Court of his State in more than fifty important cases. Seven years ago Mr. Chafin removed to Chicago, expecting to continue his law practice, but his wonderful power as an orator has called him into a wider field. He is an authority in United States history and his book, "The Point of View of Lincoln," has had an immense sale. His heroic defense of the mob at Springfield, Ill., by which he saved the life of an innocent black man at the imminent risk of his own, is expected to bring him the votes of many colored men, both in the North and in the South.

AEROPLANE IN GOOD FLIGHT

Two Cornell Students Invent Successful Flying Machine, Which Travels at 40 Miles an Hour.

ITHACA, N. Y., Sept. 3.—An aeroplane constructed by two Cornell students made its first successful trip today at Verna, three miles north of this city. The constructors, John C. Burkhardt of Portland, Ore., and Oscar Trovblat of Indianapolis, have been trying to perfect their machine all summer. The machine slipped along for sixty yards on rails and then rose into the air. Reaching a height of fifty feet, the aeroplane traveled at the rate of forty miles an hour for several miles. Sighting a clump of trees ahead, the driver brought the aeroplane to earth and alighted, without mishap.

NEW PARTY COUNTY CONVENTION TONIGHT

Candidates of Independence Party For Legislature to Be Named.

The Independence party convention for Alameda county meets this evening at Maple Hall, Fourteenth and Webster streets. Legislative nominees are to be made. There are several candidates in each of the districts. The platform committee of the San Francisco county Independence convention is to meet this evening at Independence party headquarters in the Hunn lobby building in San Francisco. The convention meets in adjourned session on Saturday night at Maple Hall, Sixteenth street near Dolores street, and the committee meets this evening to make ready its report.

J. M. Murphy is in line for the nomination for the Assembly in the thirty-first district. Murphy is a workman in the Labor party in San Francisco and was at one time in the Legislature. Two years ago Mr. Murphy made a strong fight for the Assembly on the Independence League ticket and polled a very large vote. He is a member of the Machine Lands' Union.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—Considerable excitement pervaded police headquarters this morning, when the report came in that human bones had been discovered in the basement of a flat occupied by James Ward, at the southeast corner of Waller street and Masonic avenue.

Detectives Mulcahey and Murphy were hastily sent out to the Park station, where the human relics had been transferred. It developed that a painter, who had been working on the building, had come across them among some rubbish while looking over some of his materials which had been stored in the cellar.

Deputy Comr. Riley, who investigated the matter, said he believed the bones were merely some relics from one of the medical colleges. The bones had evidently been in their present position for some time, and he believed that the skull, which was missing, had been buried.

SCouncilman Mullins, after the meeting, expressed his intention of making such a motion on Tuesday evening next at which time he would call the council to order for the regular session, and ask that it be brought to a conclusion.

NO WORD OF MISSING SPOUSE

Daughter of Prominent American Judge Said to Have Had Family Quarrel Before Attempt on Life.

PARIS, Sept. 4.—An American woman known at the hotel where she lived as Marie Colfelt, made an unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide by shooting today. She fired two bullets from a revolver into her breast. She was at once removed to the Beaughoin Hospital, where the bullets were extracted. It is believed that she will recover.

The reason why Mrs. Colfelt, who was Marion Withbank of New York, should have attempted to take her own life is a mystery and she refuses to make any statement.

According to the officials of the hotel, which is situated in the Avenue Kleber, near the American Embassy, Mrs. Colfelt arrived in June with her husband J. H. Colfelt and a six-year-old son. Within a few days the husband and son left for Dinard, where they have a summer residence, and have not since returned.

Mrs. Colfelt, who is twenty-eight years of age, spent most of her time in her apartment, waiting for her husband to return.

Later information says that Mr. and Mrs. Colfelt had a quarrel after the arrival of the wife in Paris. Mrs. Colfelt appeared to be troubled and is thought to have made the attempt upon her life in a fit of depression. At the hospital this afternoon her wounds were declared to be not serious and her recovery is expected. Colfelt has not yet been located.

MEMBER OF CLUB.

WASHINGTON. — James H. Colfelt, said to be the husband of the woman who attempted suicide in Paris today, is a non-resident member of the Metropolitan Club of this city. He is known to only a few of the members of the club.

WPA say they are ignorant of his whereabouts, although they understand that he has been abroad most of the time for a number of years.

DAUGHTER OF JUDGE.

PHILADELPHIA.—The woman who attempted suicide in Paris today is the daughter of Judge William W. Willbank of the Common Pleas Court of this city, and is the wife of James W. Colfelt, son of the Rev. Dr. Colfelt, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia. Some time ago she married Gustave Hockeborn of this city, but they were divorced, and she later became the wife of Colfelt.

FAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3.—So vehemently did William M. He was arrested by Policeman Boland

BICYCLE THIEVES TAKE A NEW LEASE ON LIFE

Bicycle thieves took a new lease on life yesterday, the theft of four wheels being reported to the police this morning. The victims reporting their losses are F. B. Howard, Third and Center streets; G.

Bryan's Tactics Do Not Appeal.

The Vermont election serves to confirm that which was well assured before—that the plans laid to stampede the voter are not meeting with much success.

Immediately after the nominations Mr. Bryan discovered that two companies of colored troops had been discharged, in what is known as the Brownsville affair, in a manner to give affront to the whole colored race. He harped upon it, and there were discussions in the papers as to what might happen in some of the border States with the colored vote flocking to Bryan.

Then Gompers. He was persona grata at Lincoln, and Mr. Bryan elucidated how organized labor ought to feel aggrieved at the labor plank in the Chicago platform. Though the Denver platform was really not as satisfactory in this respect as that of Chicago, it seems to have been figured that organized labor was not given to thinking for itself, but would take the word of Bryan and Gompers, and flock to the Democratic standard en masse.

Then there was the sectarian question. It is not known whether Bryan had a hand in setting up this bogie. That stress is laid upon the fact that he is orthodox and in good church standing does not necessarily inculpate him, but it is recognized that this is a campaign method not violently foreign to some he has been known to employ. This electioneering dodge is worthy of a constable campaign far back in the woods, where those intense discussions over mooted points in theology still persist, and where a whisper that a man is not a "believer" is enough to damn him in every direction. Some zealot or zealots conceived the idea that the promulgation of the fact that Mr. Taft is a Unitarian would cost him thousands of votes from the religionists, and it is at least to be said that Mr. Bryan has not evinced any disapproval of such tactics.

And so, in the matter of guaranteeing bank deposits; that was expected to develop into an issue that would sweep the field. Mr. Bryan went at it as though it could be made to appear that in delaying this policy so long the Republicans were responsible for all that has ever been lost to depositors through failure of banks.

But the Vermont election tends to show that the American people are accepting none of these representations seriously. Indeed, there is a feeling that Mr. Bryan is making a ridiculous campaign; that he has raised petty issues, and has not objected to at least one un-American effort in his behalf. He has given evidence of possessing no broad, well-grounded ideas as to national policies, but has contented himself with attempting the most puerile political tricks. He has vastly missed the national character. Perhaps he has mistaken popular toleration of himself as a show for national approval as a statesman.

It has been said of the Democratic party that it forgets nothing and learns nothing. The course of that party's candidate for the Presidency in this year of Our Lord, one thousand, nine hundred and eight, does not tend to disprove this epigrammatic statement.

The Worst Disclosure Yet.

The disclosures in the Ruef prosecution, now on again in San Francisco, show in the most palpable way to what a pitiful state the self-constituted graft prosecution has descended. While there were political enterprises interwoven, some sort of face was put upon the high-handed methods, but now that the people have repudiated the outfit at the polls, the true inwardness is bared in all its pitifulness.

A few weeks ago the complaisant Board of Supervisors acceded to the demand of the District Attorney that the sum of $70,000 be appropriated to pay a body of detectives to report to that office and to be independent of the regular police control. Detective Burns receives $625 every month out of this fund, and there are some twenty others who receive $150 a month each.

It was not fully understood at first what the duties of these extra officers was to be, but now the character of work assigned them is disclosed.

In the examination of talesmen in the Ruef case yesterday one Halloran testified that he had gained no impression of the guilt or innocence of those accused in the graft cases, and had not expressed an opinion with regard thereto.

Immediately Special Prosecutor Heney summoned William A. Conneau, who testified that the talesman had spoken to him unfavorably of the prosecution. It turned out that Conneau is one of the special agents hired by the prosecution, and that in obedience to his superior he approached the talesman sleuth-like for the purpose of worming from him his sentiments regarding graft matters. It had already developed that this system had been extensively followed, that all the talesmen had, in fact, been thus approached.

It follows that all who evinced any disrespect whatever for the private graft crusade are now subject to challenge for cause, and these "agents" of Burns and Heney at the city's expense are summoned to prove that such talesmen have bias that unfits them for duty in the jury box. But what about those who, when surreptitiously questioned by the sleuths, expressed bias favorable to Heney and Spreckels? They are not disqualified, and it is probable they have been coached so that nothing but peremptory challenge will dislodge them.

Here we have Heneyism in its pure state. This is about the worst phase of crosslet methods for which the graft prosecution has become so notorious. And a pitiful incident of it is the fact that the man who played the snout in this case is a brother-in-law of the District Attorney, summoned from somewhere down the country to take one of the places created irregularly, if not unlawfully, at the behest of the man elected to see that everything that goes on in the municipal government is regular and proper.

Another Rebuke for Spreckels.

Another jury in San Francisco has given expression to the popular disapproval of the methods of the private prosecution. The verdict of acquittal in the Treadwell case can be construed as nothing less. The public sense of justice was outraged by the extraordinary favor shown J. Dalzell Brown, and by the efforts made on the part of the District Attorney's office, which has become the personal appanage of Rudolph Spreckels, to throw all the blame for looting the California Safe Deposit and Trust Company on the shoulders of Brown's associates. Treadwell was a wealthy, honored and upright man till he got entangled with Brown and the California Safe Deposit and Trust Bank. His fortune and reputation have both been destroyed by the criminal wreck of that institution. But while the public desired the prosecution and punishment of every man who had a hand in looting the bank, two things excited sympathy for Treadwell. One was the virtual immunity granted Brown, and the second was the prosecution of Treadwell on a perjury charge instead of violating the banking laws and embezzlement. People could not understand the effort to send him to prison on a collateral charge instead of on the main issue of his transactions and acts as a director of the broken bank. The proceeding provoked the suspicion that a further attempt was being made at Treadwell's expense to shield Brown from exposure. It disgusted the public to find the District Attorney opening the prosecution of the bank wreckers with an immunity deal whereby the chief offender was let off with nominal punishment.

The Japanese Situation.

It is interesting speculation just how much of public sentiment is made up from newspaper cartoons and headings. It may be said that these are nearly always interesting, especially if they are American, for no other people has that acute ability to compress an idea into a drawing with a few strokes of the pencil, or to tell the story in a few black lines at the top.

Yet it is not to be denied that sometimes, in matters not immediately popular, public opinion is misled by such representations, themselves deficient through lack of exact understanding on the subject.

Such a matter appears to be the Japanese question. A while back some pictured and letter-press accounts had Japan on the very edge of hostilities. The aggressive country that has so recently found itself in a military way, was made to appear a mighty bugaboo. Many were scared, and some were led by journals intent chiefly on publishing "good stuff," to believe that the Japanese could sail right up to American shores, disembark and devastate the land.

It is certain they would not have an easy time at all if they should attempt invasion of this country, and it is not probable that they have intent to measure arms with a country that it is so much to their interest to keep in with. Probably the fire-eaters of Japan are comparable to the socialistic class in this country that passes resolutions in favor of the liberation by other countries of men under arrest for seditious offenses, and demands that the United States government take summary action to that end.

Japan is a country of very limited natural resources, overpopulated, and just now exhausted by a struggle with a Titan for very existence. That struggle, though successful, left it not only impoverished, but beset by political dangers. Its arch enemy is still alert, and other countries are disquieted by the new complexion that is placed on the face of things.

Russia is in the attitude of the great lubber who has had a bout with a smaller and wily foe to his discomfiture, but to his entire undoing. There is no discounting an antagonist with such mighty natural strength, however unwary he may be.

The mainstay of Japan consists in the marvelous genius of her people to conserve every resource of the country, their industry, economy and loyalty. In times of peace they pursue their vocations with extraordinary results. In times of war they are fanatically loyal, pouring their treasure into the government coffers and counting life as nothing at all. But these traits do not make them heedless. Their statesmen have a keen understanding of world politics, and great men have a show in Japan. They govern the country, and are relied upon to see that it does not rush headlong into trouble.

There is no reason to anticipate trouble between this country and Japan, though one of the very latest cartoons represents the President, while preparing for his hunting trip into Africa, as being annoyed by the buzzing of a fly in the guise of a Japanese. It is intended to typify what is regarded in uninformed quarters as an ever menacing situation.

ARE MARRIED IN A DEN OF BIG LIONS

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 8.—In the presence of 12,000 spectators, standing in a den of African lions, Miss Abbie Higgins and J. T. Betts of this city were joined in wedlock last night at the State Fair pavilion, Nov. A. B. Schumacher of Fair Oaks officiating. It was the most successful function of this kind ever given in the West, and there was not a hitch in the program.

During the ceremony, Prince, the immense African lion, growled and started the party somewhat, but was soon quieted by his owner, Madame Scholl. The ceremony was short and inside of three or four minutes the party were allowed to leave the cage when the happy bride was handed a check for $50 as the wedding present from the fair management.

ALEUTIAN INDIANS IN HORRIBLE CONDITION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The condition of the natives of an Aleutian Indian village in Russian Harbor, Bering Sea, is most deplorable, according to the report of Dr. Robert Olsen, assistant surgeon on the Russian cutter Albatross. The people have little to eat, little to wear, and no idea of cleanliness. The dwelling places are half under ground and covered with straw and sod. There is little or no ventilation and the places smell worse than dog kennels. The women and children suffer greatly from the lack of wearing apparel and the lack of food.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR

Self-control is a thing you always have till you need to use it.

The best thing about women is how different they are from men.

You'll generally find a model husband is too dull to be anything else.

Most people give advice about the things they don't understand and get it about the things they do.

The reason a woman takes so much pride in her children is so she will know she is doing her duty by them.

The First National Bank of Oakland was organized when General Grant was President, and only five years after the Central Pacific Railroad was completed. For thirty-four years the bank has served the business public of Oakland, and it will continue that service for generations to come. SOCIETY SMART SET

Social Season Is Formally Opened With Elaborate Reception

Engagement Is Announced of Talented Girl to Young Architect

Every one numbered among the exclusive smart set was invited to the elaborate reception given at the Gage home on Harrison street this afternoon. The affair was given in honor of Mrs. W. H. Richardson, who was Miss Besse Gage before her marriage and Miss Julia Richardson her widowed sister-in-law.

Since her marriage Mrs. Richardson has resided in Texas and it has been four years since she has visited her home and it was to give her an opportunity to welcome her old friends that her sisters, Mrs. James Loran Pease and Mrs. George Gross, planned the reception this afternoon. Another incentive was the coming to Oakland of Miss Richardson who is making her first visit to the coast.

Miss Richardson has just come from a finishing school in Virginia and this is her formal bow to society. She has been in Oakland for several weeks, the time being happily spent in seeing the sights which are all so new and interesting to the young debutant.

The Gage home was beautifully decorated, huckleberry garlands and ferns being used in profusion. Most of the doors were taken off for the occasion and the frames were outlined with the huckleberry. The chandeliers were a mass of garlands and feathery ferns. In one corner a bower was made of greenery under which the guests of honor and hostesses stood. The dining room was decorated with sweet peas in the pastel shades.

The most beautiful gown was worn upon this occasion, presenting a scene of unusual elegance. The occasion also marked the seventh anniversary of the wedding of Mrs. Goss who wore an exquisite spangled gown of old rose, carrying a bouquet of Japanese lilies which was a duplicate of the one carried seven years ago. Mrs. Pease wore her beautiful wedding gown of ivory satin trimmed with rose point lace and carried a shower bouquet of pink sweet peas.

The gown worn by Mrs. Richardson was of white lace and net over a heavy white satin. Miss Julia Richardson was in a gown of pale yellow which was extremely becoming to her. The last named ladies wore arm bouquets of lilies of the valley fastened with streamers of tulle. The reception hours were from 4 to 6.

The ladies in the receiving line were Mrs. George De Golia, Mrs. Dan Belton, Mrs. Hayward, Mrs. Loran Pease, Mrs. Moffitt, Mrs. Murray, Mrs. McKim, Mrs. Irving Burrill, Mrs. George Hammer, Mrs. Maxwell, Mrs. Tatt, Mrs. Margie Baneroff, Mrs. Edward von Volkmann, Mrs. F. After a fight of several months the Women's Rights movement in Finland has succeeded in securing promises from the minister of justice to admit women in large number to the bar as well as to appoint some of them to offices connected with his department. The demand of women to occupy offices in the department of justice is due to the fact that very many women in Finland are studying law and the feeling is that after completing their studies they ought to have the opportunity of finding employment in the department of justice or be admitted to the bar. ST LOUIS, Mo. — 'Announcement as made today by the Rev. W. F. Anhew, pastor of the Centenary Methodist Episcopal church, south, that on next Friday evening the church parlors will open for the fall season for the reception of young men and their sweethearts. There will be music, recitations and refreshments and chaperons will be provided for Friday night gatherings.

A great many young women have no place to entertain their beaux at home or in 'boarding houses,' said Mr. Andrews, 'and they have to strol around the city to enjoy each other's company. Our church parlors will be open to just such people. Our chaplains will be those whom mothers can have confidence in and girls who come without escorts will be well looked after.'

The expenses connected with the social evenings will be met from the general church funds.

Marrriages are sometimes solemnized in strange places. In Christchurch, England, a wedding took place not a year ago in a church which was already partially demolished to make way for a new building. More recently still a church in which a marriage was about to take place in Littleport, England, was destroyed by fire. The men were still pouring water upon the smoking ruins when a wedding party made their way over the debris. They had fixed the date and hour of their wedding and, fire or no fire, they meant to go through the business. And a courteous clergyman enabled them to do so.

Miss Italia Garibaldi, a granddaughter of General Garibaldi, has just been appointed to take charge of the Methodist Girls' Home School in Rome. This school stands on the street named for General Garibaldi and almost in the shadow of his statue.

It is again reported that Miss Katharine Atkins is "under instructions" and will become a member of the Catholic Church before she becomes the wife of Duke of Abruzzi in the fall. Miss Atkins is said not to have had any decided opinions in regard to church matters and, as a result, willingly took up the study of Catholicism.

Washington is to have a new social favorite the coming season in the person of the Japanese Kiyoko Takahira, daughter of the Japanese Ambassador. In recent years Kiyoko Takahira has moved from the most inconspicuously in society at the capital largely because they have affected Western dress. The barones however will afford a welcome change as she sticks to her Oriental costumes. She is not yet 15 years old, but she has already in her domestic society in Tokyo and in every respect is well advanced than the average American girl of equal age. She talks English with a quaintly pleasing accent and converses freely in French and German. She is of medium height as her countrywomen go, with a smiling, attractive face. In her dress she is a perfect figure. She is going to Washington and it is said she figures to go to New York for a visit within a few months for a round of social gayeties.

Which Would You Choose if Compelled to?

"My husband does not like our child," she said. "I don't know why. I think a woman can love her husband as well as after a baby comes as she does before, but some men are selfish and do not want to share the affections of their wives even with their children."

Reflection

ns OF A BACHELOR
GIRL

By Helen Roseland

Snapshots of great men all remind us that there are some consolation in being obscure.
 That deliciously giddy sensation that a woman in extras is from hovering round the brink of love and just not stepping over it always seems such a foolish waste of time and energy to a man.
 Now that there are huckeln flats with many a service incubators for brilliant chums, girls for amusement and loneliness that don't new on built his marriage seems no longer a necessary evil.

It is much easier to get a poor husband than a rich one because while a man does it mind - turning his poverty somehow he pleases to keep his nose to himself.

DID GUILT LEAD TO DONOHUE'S RASH ACT?

DEPUTY CONSTABLE KING, WHO WATCHED DONOHUE, IS ALSO MISSING

FURTHER MYSTERY HAS BEEN ADDED TO THE DONOHUE CASE THROUGH THE DISAPPEARANCE OF DEPUTY CONSTABLE KING, WHO WAS DETAINED TO WATCH THE DONOHUE HOUSE KING WAS LEFT ON DUTY AT 9 A. M. TODAY UNAVAILING.

was a note left by Donohue. It read as follows:

"I am innocent of this crime. If you find Joseph Berry you have the man who done the deed."

The note was not signed. Berry is the man with whom Mrs. Donohue is said to have consorted before she began living with Donohue.

Search Began

It was when the fear was aroused that Donohue had left the city that the search began which ended in the finding of his body. The man was under subpoena to appear at the inquest at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The coroner waited for him for over half an hour and then Deputy Coroner Sergeant and Deputy Public Administrator Flood started to look for him.

The first place visited was the Donohue home. The officers knocked on the door repeatedly, but received no response. Then they broke down the door.

Ghastly Sight

The sight that met their eyes was a ghastly one. Donohue lay on his back on the bed, the bed-clothing soaked with blood. His right hand rested on his chest and still held the revolver with which he had killed himself. On the body was only a gray shirt.

Deputies Sergeant and Flood immediately notified the police and coroner. Captain of Detectives Petersen, Sheriff Earnet and Deputy District Attorney Carey went at once to the scene.

Was He Guilty?

Donohue's suicide—despite his dying profession of innocence—is extremely significant in relation to the examination he was to be forced to submit to at the inquest.

Deputy Public Administrator Flood was on hand to question the man regarding his relations with the murdered woman who bore his name. Donohue was to be forced to prove himself her husband. He had already laid claim to the $9000 cash in two San Francisco banks and the life insurance of $3700 left by Mrs. Donohue. The Public Administrator's office demanded absolute proof of the marriage of Donohue to the woman, so also did the representatives of the fraternal organizations in which Mrs. Donohue was insured.

Sent After Him

When Donohue did not put in an appearance Coroner Tisdale instructed his deputy, Bert Sargent, to go to Donohue's house and bring him to the inquest. Flood, in behalf of the public administrator, felt that his office was interested in the matter and he accompanied Sargent to the scene.

The deputy coroner was under instructions of the coroner, in the event of no response being received to knocks on the door, to break into the house.

The two men then broke into the cottage and found the body of Donohue.

Shot Twice

The revolver with which he had killed himself contained two empty shells, and from these two bullets had been shot into the mouth, causing, it is presumed, instant death. The body lay as straight and rigid as if it had been fixed for interment by a funeral director.

It would seem as if Donohue had not as yet dressed himself for the day when the suicidal purpose entered his mind.

Captain Petersen, who is now examining the contents of the trunks found in Donohue's house, said to a TRIBUNE reporter this afternoon:

"I telephoned this morning to Marshal Carey of Emeryville to call at the home of Donohue and bring him in to see me. Marshal Carey went to Donohue's house and knocked several times at the various doors. He heard a noise as of someone walking around in the interior, but as he was denied admission, he went away, and reported to me the facts as I have stated.

DANIEL DONOHUE,
Husband of the Murdered Woman, Who Killed Himself
This Afternoon.

FACED PERJURY CHARGE WHEN HE ENDED LIFE

Donohue Swore Falsely as to His Relations With Murdered Woman

It is now the theory of the local police that Daniel Donohue ended his life because he had laid himself liable to perjury through swearing he was the dead woman's husband in his attempt to collect her life insurance and secure $9000 she had in bank deposit. Whether he had anything to do with the murder or not is yet to be discovered. The police will begin an investigation along these lines.

Although Donohue had lived with the woman who bore his name for ten years, it is now declared that he was not her legal husband. The woman is said to have been living with a Frenchman named Joseph Berry in San Francisco prior to taking up her life with Donohue. She was not married to Berry, it is stated, because the man to whom she was married in Philadelphia and from whom she was never divorced is still alive.

LIVED IN TERROR.

According to the Oakland police, Mrs. Donohue lived in constant terror of Berry. An effort has been made for the past several days to locate Berry in the hope that he could throw some light on the life of Mrs. Donohue and her relations with Berry and the suicide. Berry was last seen in San Francisco on June 12, but the police have been unable to find any trace of him since that date.

The police have been told that Donohue knew of the dead woman's relation with Berry, his silence on this matter, when interviewed, is made clear by his tragic death.

WOULD CONVICT HIMSELF

Donohue, in order to secure $9000 which the woman had on deposit in two San Francisco banks, and $3700 which she carried as life insurance, had sworn that he was her husband. At the inquest today the public administrator intended to question Donohue as to his exact relations to the murdered woman. That he could not have proved himself her legal husband and would have convicted himself of perjury is evident. The police see in this his motive for suicide.

Unless some other relations come forward, the long deserted Philadelphia husband will receive all the money left by Mrs. Donohue.

JOS. BERRY IN THE LIME- LIGHT

It Was This Alleged Paramour of Dead Woman to Whom Suicide Referred in Note.

Attorney J. S. Boyer, who was Van Ahlstedt's attorney is the man responsible for connecting Joseph Berry with the case. In view of the letter found in Donohue's house, this is now pertinent.

Attorney Boyer when seen after leaving Captain Petersen, admitted that he was the author of a story published this morning to the effect that Donohue is not in a position to prove his marriage to the dead woman, and that in fact Mrs. Donohue was the wife of a Philadelphia man and was living with Donohue without any ceremony having been performed.

MARRIAGE UNQUESTIONED.

Boyer says that Mrs. Donohue had gone through a mock marriage ceremony with a man named Joseph Berry in San Francisco, fourteen years ago and that after a quarrel with Berry four years later she came to Oakland and took up a residence with Donohue and consorted with him since. According to the Oakland police, Donohue, when asked if he had been married to the woman by a priest, replied in the negative. The questionings along this line, however, were not gone into deeply, a question as to his marriage never having come up owing to the fact that he had lived with her for ten years.

Boyer goes even further and says that Mrs. Donohue lived in deadly fear of Berry, and that Berry was seen in Oakland the day before the woman's disappearance was made public. He says that Mrs. Donohue had for years received money from Berry, he having been of the opinion that he was sending it for her support, not knowing the true condition of affairs.

"I feel confident that Ahlstedt is not guilty of this crime of which he stands suspected," said Boyer this morning at police headquarters. "It is true that he has an unsavory record, but there is nothing which strongly connects him with the second case. The identification of the shovel or the mud-stained clothing are nothing. The evidence is weak throughout and provided nothing more is found in the case so far as evidence pointing to Ahlstedt's guilt is concerned, he will in all probability be turned over to the San Francisco officials within the next

SON VISITS HIS FATHER IN JAIL

SON OF MAN ACCUSED IN DONOHUE CASE WHO VISITED HIS FATHER IN JAIL TODAY

Van C. Ahlstedt, accompanied by Attorney J. S. Boyer, arrived from San Francisco this morning and for over an hour was in the city prison in consultation with the father of the man who is under arrest on suspicion of having murdered Mrs. Donohue. The accused man, whose body was taken out of a hurriedly dug grave at Sixty-fourth and streets last Sunday morning, was no longer in the city jail, and so far as could be determined no reference to the sensational case.

THREATENS PERJURY CHARGE.

"If she attempts to press her charges, there will probably be some developments along a perjury case for her. I have a witness to prove that Berry was in Oakland the day before Donohue's strange disappearance was made known, but I am not prepared to make his identity known at this time. Berry was firmly of the opinion that he was legally married to the woman now known as Mrs. Donohue. I am convinced that he did not believe the woman, when she told him that she was the wife of a man in Philadelphia.

"Many startling developments are promised in the case in the near future."

Ahlstedt's son, admitting that his father had been accused of various crimes, declared that he was firmly convinced that he was not guilty in this case.

"He is not in need of money," he said, "and would not commit a crime for such a reason. I know my father like a book and I can tell you he is except to deny that he was guilty. Attorney Boyer and young Ahlstedt were with Captain of Detectives Petersen for a short time after the interview with the prisoner. Attorney Boyer said that he would make no effort to secure Ahlstedt's release on a writ of habeas corpus and said that he was willing to give all the help he could to unravel the mystery surrounding the woman's death. He says he is confident that Ahlstedt is not guilty of the crime and further declares that the police have nothing which would result in his conviction even if he were brought up for trial. This the police admit.

Coroner's Inquest Adjourns

At the Coroner's inquest into the death of Mrs. Donohue this afternoon Chemist Frank Benzinger testified that she died within two hours after eating dinner. The condition of the food in Mrs. Donohue's stomach made it possible for Benzinger to draw these conclusions.

Dinner, according to a statement made recently by Donohue, was eaten at 7 o'clock, and this places the time of Mrs. Donohue's death at about 9. Donohue said that he had eaten dinner with her and told what they had for their evening meal. His statement as to the nature of their dinner was proved true through a chemical analysis of the contents of Mrs. Donohue's stomach.

It was further developed at the Coroner's inquest that Mrs. Donohue must have been prepared to retire shortly before her death. Her hair was braided as was her custom prior to retiring. When the word of Donohue's death reached the Coroner during the inquest, an adjournment was taken until Tuesday, September 8 at 10 a. m.

telling the truth. There is no evidence to show that he is guilty as suspected and events to come will prove this to be true."

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—A dispatch to the Inter-Ocean from Ottawa, Ill., says:

Two persons were killed, two fatally hurt and three seriously injured near here last night when an electric car on the Illinois Valley Railway struck a carriage in which were seated Walter Snell, a wealthy farmer, and a party of six persons.

KILLED AND INJURED.
The dead:
Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Snell, 12 years old.
Son of Mr. and Mrs. Snell, 8 years old.

Fatally injured:
Mrs. James Townsend and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Snell, 15 years old.

Seriously injured:
Mr. and Mrs. Snell and son of Mrs. Townsend, 8 years old.

The crash occurred at a point where the road crosses the electric line, about six miles from Ottawa.

The road was not well lighted and near the crossing there is a sharp curve which prevented Mr. Snell, who was driving, from seeing the approaching car. The carriage was directly in the center of the track when the car, coming at top speed, crashed into it.

All the occupants of the carriage were thrown far from the track and the carriage was completely wrecked. The horses were also thrown away from the track. The car was not damaged and none of the passengers was injured.

Interesting Figures Shown In Secretary of State's Report

General Increase in Receipts Indicates Remarkable Growth

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 3.—Deputy Secretary of State John H. Henshaw has made public some interesting statistics contained in the biennial report of Secretary of State Charles F. Curry for the fifty-eighth and fifty-ninth fiscal years, beginning July 1, 1906, and ending June 30, 1908. The report is a bulky affair and contains statements of the business transacted by the various departments of the Secretary of State's office. It shows, among other things, that during the fiscal years in question, the Governor has granted fifty-two pardons, sixty-three commutations of sentence, and six reprieves; has signed 575 restorations to citizenship; issued four proclamations offering rewards, and sixty-one holiday and other proclamations, has granted 1432 orders of release of prisoners from various State prisons under the Goodwin Act; has signed 511 land patents; commissioned 252 notaries public and forty commissioners of deeds; has made 551 executive appointments; approved fifty-five official bonds; refused one extradition and one transfer of prisoners.

INCREASE IN RECEIPTS.

The total receipts of the Secretary of State's office, exclusive of the corporate license tax department and the motor vehicle department, for the fifty-eighth and fifty-ninth fiscal years, amounted to $516,218.97; the receipts for the fifty-sixth and fifty-seventh fiscal years amounted to $384,585.10, showing an increase in the last two years of $131,633.87.

During the two years ending June 30, 1908, there were 7487 articles of incorporation filed, recorded and certificates issued, as against 6803 during the two years preceding. During the last two years the Secretary of State Curry certified to 5226 copies, as against 4370 for the previous two years. The office made 3037 certified copies of articles during the last two years, as against 1010 for the preceding two years.

Exclusive of Curry's salary of $3,000 per annum, the sum of $45,400 was paid out in the last two fiscal years to employees of the corporation department, leaving a net income of $49,313.07, which was turned into the State treasury.

CORPORATION LICENSE TAX INCOME.

The corporation license tax law was amended in 1908, making the license tax on all corporations $20. All corporations which became delinquent in the payment of that tax became liable to a penalty of $10 in addition. Under the law, as amended the following amounts were collected by the corporation license tax department:

For the period commencing July 1, 1906, and ending June 30, 1907, $305,130.12; for the period commencing July 1, 1907, and ending June 30, 1908, $160,088.85; the net gain to the State was $206,303.45.

In March, 1907, the corporate license tax law was amended by placing the license tax on a graduated scale, payable according to the amount of the authorized capital stock of corporations, the amount of the tax ranging from $10 to $250. The amount of penalty for delinquency remained the same.

THE GRADUATED TAX.

Under the law as again amended there was collected during the period commencing on July 1, 1907, and ending June 30, 1908, the sum of $472,800. Some 12,544 corporations paid the graduated tax in the sum of $553,775; 1017 paid the graduated tax and $10 penalty, 65 paid $30 for revivor licenses, 58 paid $40 for revivor licenses, 1201 licenses were issued at $20 each, making a total of $572,300. The expenses were $14,613.18, leaving a net gain to the State of $557,686.82. In the fifty-eighth fiscal year, 1904, corporations forfeited the right to do business and in the fifty-ninth 2756 gave up their charters. The net income to the State from the corporate license tax department, of which 1000 is the bond, increased this year over last $361,363.37.

MOTOR VEHICLE DEPARTMENT.

In the motor vehicle department, 19,187 automobiles and 2540 chauffeurs were registered from July 1, 1906, to June 30, 1908. The total number of registered machines in the State June 30 last was 17,015, and the number of registered chauffeurs 3621. The fees received by the department for the two years amounted to $28,267.50.

From July 1, 1898, to June 30, 1903, the years which Charles F. Curry has been Secretary of State, his office has collected $2,568,351.88.

TO TEST THE LAW ABOUT ARCHITECTS

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 3.—To test the legality of the State law, Otto H. Neher, a Los Angeles architect, who was fined $10 by Police Justice Rose last Monday for practicing architecture without having obtained a permit from the State board, will appeal the case. Neher has retained Attorney Walter Haas and will carry the matter to the highest courts. It is the contention of the defense that the law is invalid because a person can practice architecture without a license provided he tells clients he is not licensed.

you and my son. I know you are a great deal of an attorney. My high is an open book to the public—it was well and effectively proven in open court, where I received my vindication and sympathy of all those that took an interest in my case—from Judge, press and public. You think you know me, but you do not know your son—you do not remember what relation existed one time between you and my son. I have your own letters which would condemn you in an open court, besides I have not been idle in writing and suffering. I can verify my assertions. You just try and you will find that I am game to the last, and care not for consequences, as you have already run my character down as low as you could. People

He will soon know the undeniable truth, and then the tables will turn in his favor. I am collecting events in your past, and I find ready assistance everywhere. ohue and was again denied this time on the ground that the newspapers were not treating him fairly.

Donohue for several days refused to discuss his married life or to give any facts as to the birth, parentage and marriage to him of his wife. He stated he thought the birthplace of the deceased was a town in Pennsylvania called Birmingham, that the woman's parents were dead and that he did not know where any members of her family were living at this time. Since then he has been in communication with some of them, according to officials of the police department.

When asked where he and the woman were married, he replied in a reluctant manner that the marriage had taken place in San Francisco about ten years ago.

He was asked as to who had performed the marriage ceremony and declined to answer the question, stating at the same time that there was no necessity to go into such details and to tell a number of things which had nothing to do with the case.

MAY FACE TRIAL FOR PERJURY

Husband in Divorce Action Arouses Suspicion of Superior Judge Waste.

Anselmo Flores, a young Mexican who is defendant in a divorce action now being tried before Superior Judge William F. Waste, has only escaped spending last night in the county jail for perjury and is not yet entirely free from such a possibility. The testimony given by Flores in his wife's charge of adultery, which was introduced in the case, appeared to Judge Waste to be a tissue of falsehoods and perjury. District Attorney Brown was called into the court room to consider the advisability of proceeding against the man on a criminal charge.

HAD STRANGE APPEARANCE.
Amongst other exhibits introduced in the case was a pencil-drawn agreement which Flores alleged had been signed by his wife, stating that she would return to him and resume their marital relations in return for kind treatment and consideration. The drawing was about the size of a visiting card and was written with an indelible pencil. Flores, signature was in ink. The whole gave an impression that the signature had been obtained first, after which the agreement had been written in by the husband. Flores testified that his wife had signed the agreement during a street car ride to Berkeley.

After a lengthy consultation between Judge Waste, District Attorney Brown and Chief Deputy District Attorney Donahue, it was decided that an action against Flores for perjury was not advisable.

FEARED HER HUSBAND.
Mrs. Flores, in the testimony of the case, declared that she lived in a daily fear of her husband on account of the threats he had made against her. She described one scene which took place in Capetown's street while she was working there. Flores, she said, came to the store and demanded that she leave her work and come home with him. Upon her refusal to do so, Flores raised an outcry and attracted the floor-walker, who eventually had the angry husband arrested.

Judge Waste granted an interlocutory decree of divorce to the young woman and awarded to her the custody of a minor child.

Mollie A. Patterson got a final decree of divorce from Robert E. Patterson for habitual intemperance and extreme cruelty. She said he came home at 10 o'clock one night, threw her on the floor and put his hands on her mouth when she attempted to call for help.

Suits for divorce have been filed by Louis Lutterman against Bertha Lutterman for habitual intemperance and cruelty, by Mary Hayward against Albert E. Hayward on the ground of habitual intemperance, by Mrs. A. B. Carter against T. E. Carter on the ground of desertion, and by Emily C. Williams against William Williams on a charge of failure to provide.

ANIMAL STORIES BY ONE WHO KNOWS THEM, BARNUM & BAILEY'S EXHIBIT.
John Patterson, superintendent of the Barnum & Bailey exhibit, which opens with the circus, September 6 and 7, has spent nearly his entire life time among animals and is as full of interesting animal stories as an egg is full of meat.

Patterson is not always in a reminiscent mood, but when he is, is as fond of telling stories as a sailor is of spinning tales of the briny deep.

He takes more than one opportunity to make a good animal man. Patterson will tell you. Some develop cold feet when it comes to getting in a cage with a lion, a soft-footed animal, and others, of course, and the kind the circus doesn't want, kill time smoking cigarettes and telling "funny stories." Patterson has had every variety of experience.

BITTEN BY ANIMALS.
Once he was bitten in the leg by a lioness when he was feeding her. He was attacked by a tiger, that at the moment no particular sensation is felt. Patterson attributes the bite to the tiger, which in his case drove all thoughts of pain away. Later he suffered tortures and laid off for three weeks. But in spite of his adventures, he has more and more than one narrow escape from "bad" elephants. Patterson says he would prefer to handle any animal than a powerful lion of the African kind.

The General Demand of the Well-Informed of the World has always been for a simple, pleasant and efficient liquid laxative remedy of known value; a laxative which physicians could sanction for family use because its component parts are known to them to be wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, acceptable to the system and gentle, yet prompt, in action.

In supplying that demand with its excellent combination of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, the California Fig Syrup Co. proceeds along ethical lines and relies on the merits of the laxative for its remarkable success.

That is one of many reasons why Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is given the preference by the Well-Informed. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Price fifty cents per bottle.

UNTOLD INJURY TO OAKLAND PEOPLE, AS IT IS ELSEWHERE THROUGHOUT THE LAND.

Neglecting a bad back, Not trying to reach the cause, Brings untold injury to the human system.

Following in the wake of backache are urinary disorders, diabetes, Bright's disease.

Let an Oakland citizen tell of her cure. Josephine Lee, living at 334 1/2 Bush street, Oakland, Cal., says: "I first began to experience trouble from my kidneys about twelve years ago. At night I would be annoyed by sharp pains through my back and was troubled more or less during the day. In fact, the distress came to me most of the time. Besides this trouble there were constant pains through my hips, and I think the constant confinement and the bending and stooping over I am forced to do had caused the suffering. My kidneys began to give me trouble, the secretions being highly colored and were so frequent at night as to cause me to arise many times. At last I was forced to stop my work, and I procured a box of Dean's Kidney Pills. Their invigorating effect was noticeable from the first. I continued using them and steadily improved. I feel that I am warranted in recommending Dean's Kidney Pills to other kidney sufferers."

For sale by all druggists. Price 50 cents. Foster-Kuburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Dean's—and take no other.

M. D.S. DISAGREE AS TO CHARGE FOR OPERATION

Lawyers Set Bad Example, Says Doctor

A wide divergence of opinion exists between the physicians of Oakland respecting the value of an operation for appendicitis, according to the testimony of Dr. C. D. Hamilton, Dr. E. N. Ewer and Dr. Thomas Clarke, given in Superior Judge Lennon's courtroom this morning. Clarke, who is suing G. A. Wanger for recovery of the value of such an operation, performed on Wanger's five-year-old son, estimates his services at $2500.

Dr. E. N. Ewer, after reviewing the work done by Clarke for the Wanger boy, gave his opinion that it was worth $2000.

QUESTION OF WEALTH.
"In a mean of course," said the city physician, "if I thought the persons concerned were able and willing to pay such an amount. In cases of this sort I rarely present a bill, preferring to talk the matter over frankly with my patient or the relatives, contrasting the indolence and asking them just what they think it is worth."

"Have you ever received more than $200 for an operation for appendicitis, doctor?" asked Carl Abbott, who is representing the defendant in the action.

"Not I don't believe I have," replied Ewer. "My practice does not extend among the rich classes of the city. In several cases I have told my clients that I thought the operation was worth $2000, but I have never received it."

"Doctor, when you told them that the operation was worth $2000 you did not entertain very much hope of getting that amount did you?" asked Abbott.

"Well, I admit it would have surprised me a little. However, you lawyers always manage to charge as much as the traffic will bear and have set a bad example for the physicians. We do a great deal of work for nothing and are compelled to make it up by the amount we charge people who are able to pay."

Dr. Hamilton moved to pay. The three surgeons, estimating the work performed by Clarke for Wanger at $1000. Hamilton stated that some physicians received as high as $10,000 for an appendicitis operation.

WM. ZINGG HELD TO ANSWER FOR PERJURY
ALAMEDA, Sept. 3.—William Zingg, a prominent citizen of this city, who was recently acquitted on the charge of perjury, was arraigned in Judge Johnson's court today to answer the charge of perjury while on the stand at his recent trial.

At his preliminary hearing this morning, he was held to answer in the Superior Court, and his bond was fixed at $2000. He gave bond, and is now at liberty. He has retained Judge Frick to defend him.
